Tommy Cox, fifth grade of Miller school, surprised each room with a picture of gladioli. We have enjoyed them so much.

The fifth grade of Miller School is taking a scene from the Old Stone Mill on a large table. Much interest has been shown in bringing in materials.

In their social studies class, the fifth grade boys and girls of the Ridgely school, have been reading library books on the lives of the early cave men. They are drawing a frieze depicting life in the Dawn Age. Some of the group has made rough tools to show the kinds used at this early age.

Elsa Muller, a first grade pupil at Third Ward, brought a turtle to school Wednesday. The children of the room were much interested in it.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD

THEY'LL RELISH THESE:

In grandmother's time, the piccalilli dish went on the table along with the sugar bowl, just as a matter of course. Modern housekeepers might well take a lesson from grandmother, for a piquant relish or pickle still is effective for defeating meal-time doldrums.

Looking ahead to winter meals, get your shelves well stocked while makings are plentiful. Pickles and relishes do wonders with bland meats, and round out the flavor of a well-seasoned roast. With veal we recommend:

SNAPPY BEET PICKLE
2 cups cooked beets, fresh or canned
1/4 cup finely minced celery
2 cups finely chopped cabbage
1 cup vinegar
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup prepared horseradish
Mix all ingredients; bring to a boil and cook for 5 minutes. Pour into clean, hot sterilized jars and seal at once. Yield: Approximately 1 1/4 quarts—5 half-pint jars.

There was a time when a bride would sooner have started keeping house without a broom and a dish pan than without a good piccalilli recipe. Our favorite is this tried and treasured old-timer:

AUNT POLLY'S PICCALILLI
1 peck green tomatoes
2 quarts onions
1 medium head cabbage
2 quarts green peppers
1/4 cup salt
1 1/2 pounds (4 cups) brown sugar
1 ounce (2 tablespoons) mustard seed
3 packages (3 ounces) quill cinnamon
1 ounce (1/4 cup) allspice
1 box (1/4 cup) whole cloves
About 1 1/2 quarts cider vinegar
Wash vegetables and grind or chop coarsely. Stir in salt; let stand overnight. Drain and add sugar. Tie spices in cloth bag and drop into mixture, adding just enough vinegar to cover. Cook slowly until tender. Remove bag of spices. Fill hot sterilized jars and seal while hot. Yield: About 14 pint jars.

Yours for a brimming relish shelf,

Jean Allen

First Ward school has one hundred and seventy-seven pupils enrolled.

Harold Hoffman, a former pupil of the Indianapolis school, and Robert Wells of Parke county schools, have enrolled in the Mary Emma Jones school.

The second grade of Miller School has started a study of the Arabs. It was suggested by a tent brought by a child. Pictures, stories and art work are following this topic.

Interesting talks on stamp collections were given by Bobby Huggard and Joe Manhart at the meeting of the club of the sixth grade of Miller School.

On September the nineteenth, the members of Miss Adams' homeroom elected the following officers: Vester Lenzen, president; Bob Flannagan, vice-president; Margaret Neal, secretary; and Richard Foster, treasurer.

The high school library has been painted and made even more cheerful than last year. Several new books have been purchased from the Jesse McAnally fund.

The assistants chosen this year for the library are six seniors: Virginia Torr, Elizabeth Rogers, Oma Smiley, Aileen Hoffman, Virginia Bundy, and Jane Purcell. One underclassman was chosen also, Mary Templeman.

Mr. Jones has announced that nearly all of the seniors have purchased their class jewelry which they ordered last year. Their choice was a beautiful class ring with the letter "G" on a beautiful crest. Many others purchased class pins which have the same design as the rings.

Mr. Boston reports that he has received a letter from George Davis who is now teaching at Howard township near Kokomo. Mr. Davis, who was given a leave of absence to do military service, secured a last minute deferment for five months. This was after his substitute successor had been appointed here. Mr. Davis said that because of shortage of teachers he was able to get a position on a temporary basis.

NEW PLANS FOR BABY

Autumn is the time for home-makers to take stock and decide what changes should be made in the different departments of the home. In the all-important nursery department, you will want to give a thought to the baby's diet. Perhaps the baby is coming to the strained food age or he has reached the time when he should gradually be introduced to food which is more like adult fare.

The importance of strained foods in the baby's diet cannot be over-estimated. Doctors have found that, in many cases, when the baby has reached his fifth month his reserve store of iron has become depleted. Thus he should be started eating fruits, vegetables and soups which are in a form he can easily handle and which provide iron and other valuable nutrients. Hence the importance of prepared strained foods in a baby's diet.

The exact age at which a child should be started on strained foods should be determined by the doctor, however, since children vary somewhat in their development and ability to take foods other than the usual milk, cod liver oil, orange and tomato juice.

Junior foods, often called chopped foods, bridge the gap between the strained foods and the time when the child takes the regular family fare. They should be given to the child as soon as sufficient teeth have developed, for it is good for the child to learn to chew as soon as possible. The particles of the chopped foods are small enough, however, so that if the child does not learn immediately to chew properly no harm is done when he swallows them as they are.

There are 12 varieties of the chopped foods and 14 varieties of strained foods—vegetables, fruits, desserts, soups and cereals. The strained foods come in cans of the 4½-ounce size—the average size serving for the child who has become completely accustomed to strained foods. The exceptions are the strained cereal—which comes in 10-ounce tins—and the strained prunes—which come in 5-ounce tins.

The chopped foods are packed in tins containing 6½ ounces net weight. Both chopped and strained foods may be kept in their unopened tins after opening for serving on the second day if they are covered and placed in a cold refrigerator.

One reason for the high acceptance of the prepared strained and chopped foods among child nutrition authorities, doctors and parents is that they have such high nutritional value. The fresh foods are picked at the peak of their perfection and immediately cooked at low pressure in the absence of air without added water. Thus a minimum of vitamins and minerals are lost. One could not prepare strained and chopped foods with this high nutritive value in the home, because one would not have the special equipment required.

When introducing either of these foods into a child's diet, care should be taken that the change is gradual. Thus, a small quantity such as a teaspoon of the strained food may be diluted with water or milk to make it resemble the liquid diet to which the child is accustomed. After that the quantities are increased and the added liquid is soon dispensed with. When the chopped foods are introduced, the first variety chosen should be mixed with a small amount of a strained food of the same flavor until the baby becomes accustomed to the feel of the coarser texture. The proportion of the chopped food is then gradually increased until the baby is content to take the chopped food by itself.

Women of The Moose Plan Program Sept. 24
Publicity chairman, Madama Sutherland of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 138, Greencastle, will have her Chapter Night Program next Wednesday, September 24. This is an open meeting, and a program has been planned which will interest both the members and the non-members. The Women of the Moose have learned through their international activities that publicity is a vital, interesting subject. By following the recommendations for publicity work, established for the Women of the Moose in 1927 by their Grand Chancellor, Miss Katherine Smith of Washington, D. C., the Women of the Moose have come to recognize publicity as one of the most fascinating activities in their development program. Members without any previous experience in this work accept the chairmanship of publicity for their chapter, and in most instances, later express their appreciation for the opportunity of handling such interesting work. Because the Women of the Moose bases its program on the object of serving the needs of homes and communities everywhere, they endeavor to make the Mooseheart Standards available to every person in the community.

The individual chapter member makes a valuable contribution to her chapter's publicity program every time she is instrumental in helping to bring about some constructive activity of civic interest which will make news for her local paper.

The Women of the Moose program of chapter development in addition to publicity, includes adult education in nine other major subjects of interest to women everywhere. So it is that the publicity program being sponsored by the local publicity committee promises to be of interest and benefit to all who attend. The public is cordially invited to attend as guests of the chapter.

STATE WIDE CAMPAIGN

Members of the Greencastle Unit of the Indiana State Symphony Society's Women's Committee are joining in the current state-wide campaign for the sale of season tickets to the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra's 1941-1942 concert series, according to word received today from Mrs. C. D. Bundy, chairman of the local unit and Miss Veneta Kunter, local ticket sales chairman.

"The members of the Greencastle Unit have joined in the activities of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra," she continued, "for several reasons. One because it is the only fully professional, full-time symphony orchestra in the state and we think pride in our state's national cultural status calls for the support of one of the country's major symphony orchestras, and because we want eventually to bring about a series of annual concerts in all sections of Indiana so that the state's great orchestra will be available for concerts in every community that has an adequate auditorium."

PIGEONS IN AIR RACE TO CLEVELAND, O.

1800 RACING PIGEONS WERE RELEASED HERE SATURDAY MORNING

AT BIG FOUR STATION

Pigeons Owned By Six Ohio Sport-men's Clubs. Sent Here In Express Car

Eighteen hundred feathered youngsters took off from the Big Four railroad station here, at 7:30 this morning, for a fast flight to their home lofts, at Cleveland, Ohio. Back home, a group of rich men, soon after noon today, would begin anxiously to await the arrival of the little army of fliers, some of the men doubtless having quite a bit of money posted to back their winged racers on their 300-mile trip from Greencastle to Cleveland.

These homing pigeons were from six clubs of sportsmen whose organizations are members of the American Racing Pigeon Union. The clubs sending birds for release this morning are the Original, Fairview, Lakewood, Good Sports, Broad View and Grand Limited.

The fliers were shipped here in an express car, attached to a fast passenger train, accompanied by a veteran in the business of managing such releases, Mike A. Schoweth, who works week-ends for the pigeon racing clubs and who began coming here with such shipments a number of years ago.

Mr. Schoweth said the pigeons should traverse the miles between here and home in 6½ or 7 hours, their speed being somewhat dependent upon the wind and other atmospheric conditions, such as are experienced by all airmen. These birds, he said, are all young ones, hatched this spring, who have never been released at this point before. In releases in the spring, the birds are older and some of them turned loose here each spring have been here before. Homing pigeons are often timed as fast as 2,100 yards a minute, he said.

This big fleet of fliers showed the improvement in homing instincts that has been developed by intensive breeding for that purpose. Jesse Green, of the Big Four local staff, who has been releasing homing pigeons here, in shipments from Cleveland, for years, said the birds formerly circled around town once or twice before taking off for home, but these birds, this morning, flew a short distance northward, then wheeled like soldiers in an unbroken front headed straight toward home, at a fast speed.

Mr. Green said that, last Sunday, he released a cage full of birds some of whom had some wonderlust in their little brains. Two of them went home, but others toured Canada and the Great Lakes and didn't get home until the next day.

Sabotage Again Flares In Paris

GANG OF TEN MEN FIRES NAZI
GARAGE EVEN AS EIGHT
"REDS" ARE SHOT

VICHY, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Eight alleged Communists accused of terrorism and anti-German "manifestations" were executed in Paris today amid a new outbreak of sabotage in which ten men wrecked several German Army cars in a Paris garage and escaped.

Six of the alleged Communists, charged with terrorism, were sentenced to death by a new state tribunal in Paris this afternoon and immediately executed.

They included Raymond Guyot, deputy for the Paris suburb of Val-leuil and former general secretary of the Communist Youth Movement.

The tribunal sentenced Gabriel Peri, political editor of the outlawed Communist newspaper Humanite, to life imprisonment at hard labor. Twelve persons appeared before the tribunal charged with reconstitution of a dissolved party, with terrorism and with spreading propaganda.

Earlier, German military authorities in Paris had announced the execution of two other Communists for participation in anti-German "manifestations."

The latest executions raised to twenty-three the number of Communists shot by the Germans in the past month in a determined drive to stamp out terrorism and sabotage in occupied France.

Meantime, sabotage was reported to have spread into rural areas with the destruction of five barns filled with grain.

The announcement that two men had been executed for anti-German "manifestations" indicated they were shot as participants in anti-Nazi demonstrations rather than as hostages for terrorist attacks on German soldiers or sabotage.

Men To Choose DePauw Queen

WINNING COED WILL REIGN
OVER OLD GOLD DAY ACTIVITIES

Sal Marino, president of Kappa Tau Kappa, men's interfraternity council, announced today the method of selecting the Queen of Old Gold Day.

Each sorority and hall group will submit three candidates to the president of Kappa Tau Kappa by Wednesday, September 24.

In the coronation ceremony there can be only twelve candidates, partners for each of the Kappa Tau men. For this reason, Johnson House must be grouped with Lucy Rowland Hall and Locust Manor with Rector for the nomination of these first three candidates.

At a meeting September 28, the interfraternity council will choose one from each group of three. These twelve girls will make up the Queen's court. By a vote in the Men's houses, one of this group will be chosen queen.

The coronation will take place on Old Gold Day at 1:45. An impressive ceremony is being arranged with the cooperation of the band. Pictures of the twelve candidates will be placed in the entrance to Harrison Hall one week before the final fraternity vote.

U. S. Will Speed Bombers To Reds

NEEDED MORE THAN FIGHTER
PLANES TO CHECK NAZI
ONSLAUGHT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(UP)—The government today threw its full energies into a race to get American bombers to Russia before the German onslaught goes too far.

Lend-lease officials, the state department and other agencies were working desperately to avoid another situation similar to those in which outside aid for a threatened nation did not arrive in time to check a German advance.

Lend-lease officials handle exports of war material for Russia although the materials are not being paid for with lend-lease funds.

The emphasis was on getting two-engine bombers and tanks to Russia. The production of bombers of the desired type has been speeded up greatly in recent weeks. Some are on the way to Russia. Officials believe many more would be available for shipment to Russia within a short time.

The only American planes actually to arrive in Russia thus far have been fighters, Lockheeds of the P-38 type. They were intended originally for British use and were diverted to Russia after arrival on the other side of the Atlantic.

The Russians need bombers more than they do fighters. The outcome of the present struggle in Russia appears to depend largely on whether the American bombers arrive while the Russians are still stoutly defending their homeland.

CIRCUIT COURT NOTES

In the preliminary hearing of Clarence Sanford, charged with third degree burglary in an affidavit made by Mrs. M. A. Wolfe, he pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for October 16.

Robert Johnson pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge in the Circuit Court and was fined $100 and sentenced to serve six months at the penal farm, suspended upon condition he pay $16 a week for the support of his family. Johnson pleaded not guilty to the second charge against him—failure to support his family—and on that charge, he was released on his own recognizance.

In the suit of State vs. Alfred Edwards, in the Hendricks circuit court in which a change of judge was asked, the clerk of the state Supreme Court named Judge Marshall D. Abrams and former Judge Courtland C. Gillen, of Greencastle, as two of the three judges from which a special judge can be selected.

Three Special Chapels Listed

DEPAUW STUDENTS TO HEAR
DISCUSSIONS ON PRESENT
WORLD CRISIS

In order to clarify the present world situation for DePauw University students, President Clyde E. Wildman has arranged a series of three special chapels for the coming week in which three qualified faculty members will discuss the war and its real significance.

The first of the series will be given Tuesday morning with Dr. George B. Manhart, professor of European history, as speaker. Dr. Manhart will talk on "The First Two Years of the War." Dr. Manhart is considered an authority on European affairs.

The second of the series will be given Wednesday by Dr. Vernon VanDyke, assistant professor of Political Science, who will talk on "The World War and the Conflict Between Liberalism and National Socialism." Dr. VanDyke held an important commission with the League of Nations at one time, being charged with the dissemination of information on the League's activities to the United States. He was stationed at Geneva for a time.

The third and final chapel will delve into the economic side of the war with Dr. Hiram Jome, head of the department of Economics at DePauw, as speaker. He will talk on "The Economic Significance of the Present War." Dr. Jome has just returned to the campus after leave of absence during which he did research in the great libraries of the country.

President Wildman believes that DePauw students will benefit by entering their college work with a clearer conception of what the present world situation is and what some of the problems are which they may face in a war situation.

AUDRID FLEENOR "WITCHES" WELL AT LOCAL WATER WORKS STATION

We take back everything we have ever said about "Witchin'" a well. It has all come about through the finding of a well at the Water Works pumping station which is flowing at the rate of 150 gallons of pure water per minute and the well was located by Audrid Fleenor's power as a "witcher."

In times past we have accused these performing the trick of being super-natural, but now that it has been accomplished here right at our front door, we accept the fact that it is possible.

Mr. Fleenor went to the pumping station, got him a peach-tree limb and began his super-natural "witchin'" powers. He located a spot just east of the pumping station and designated it as the place for the well. It was first decided to drill a 12 inch well and Mr. Fleenor said it would pump 400 gallons of water per minute. Some change was made and the well was drilled only eight inches. That accounts for the difference in volume. Mr. Fleenor said the water would be hit at 73 feet. The drill went 73 feet and three inches. So again, he hit the bulls-eye.

The well was drilled by Mr. Scobee and it is believed another one will be sunk, which if it is as good as this one, will furnish the city an ample supply of water.

Movie Writer Is Murder Suspect

LOS ANGELES POLICE INVESTIGATE SLAYING OF WEALTHY WOMAN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Scenario writer Ernest G. Booth, was held on a gun charge today while police continued their investigation of the slaying of wealthy Mrs. Florence Stricker.

Booth, a paroled convict, was freed yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus after police had held him since Sunday on suspicion of murder. When he left the courtroom, he was arrested immediately and charged with possession of guns, unlawful for ex-convicts. Judge Edward R. Brand set his bail at $10,000 pending hearing next Tuesday on a second application for writ of habeas corpus.

Mrs. Stricker was found clubbed to death in her home a week ago today. Booth was taken into custody after it was learned he broke a dinner engagement with Mrs. Stricker and her husband, Dr. George Stricker, a druggist practitioner. Stricker is the beneficiary of half of his wife's estate of more than $1,000,000 according to a copy of her will opened by police this week.

Dr. Stricker has been confined to a sanitarium since the killing. His physicians reported he suffered a heart ailment when he found his wife's body stuffed in a closet.

DUKE UNIVERSITY STUDENT CHOSEN TO LEAD NEW YOUTH ORGANIZATION

J. Kempton Jones of Salisbury, N. C., Duke University student, has been chosen to lead the new youth organization of united Methodism. It is expected that most of the two million Methodist young people between 15 and 23 will become adherents with the first year.

Mr. Jones delivered a salutatory address to thousands of his new constituency over the "Call to Youth" program, NBC Red Network, Saturday, September 20, at 12:30 noon.

Representatives from 43 states meeting at Baker University, Baldwin, Kan., early in September set up the new movement under the name Methodist Youth Fellowship. It will replace the Epworth League and all other Methodist Youth organizations. Preliminary planning had been done by a Youth Commission appointed by the Methodist General Conference of 1940 in which representative young people from all sections of the church and adult councilors cooperated.

The new president has had previous experience in youth work having been president of the Southern Jurisdiction's Methodist young people's organization.

Other national officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship are Mar-

Report Raider Sunk In Pacific

BRITISH HEAR OF ENCOUNTER
WEST OF PANAMA—U-BOAT
LOSSES DECREASE

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(UP)—An authoritative source today quoted a rumor that a German raider has been destroyed in the Pacific after sinking several ships west of the Panama Canal.

(Panama Canal Zone reports had stated that a German raider, perhaps based in the Galapagos Islands off the coast of Venezuela, was believed to have sunk the Netherlands Steamer Kota Nopan, 7,332 tons, reported overdue while en route to the United States.)

British losses in the battle of the Atlantic are steadily diminishing, this source said. He called the German claim to have sunk twenty-eight ships in an east-bound Atlantic convoy a week ago "greatly exaggerated."

"Some of the ships they allege to have sunk are safe in harbor," he said.

He said the running battle between German submarines and British warships and planes lasted several days and nights and covered hundreds of miles.

Though the Germans have increased the number of U-boats operating in the Atlantic, he said, the British losses for August were "very encouraging."

"In September, we have had varied results, again, however, not too bad," he said. "However, this does not mean that the British losses are permanently on the downgrade."
